Canadian Destroyer Sunk 146 Men of Crew Are Missing

Survivor, Victims of U-Boat

AB. STANLEY R. BOTTOMLEY

STOKER W. R. STRANGE

By FRANK FLAHERTY
OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—(CP)—Loss of the Canadian destroyer St. Croix with 146 men was announced today by Navy Minister Macdonald—second proof in a week that German submarines are back in the North Atlantic preying on trans-oceanic convoys.

The ship, one of seven United States destroyers turned over to the Canadian navy after the 50-destroyer exchange for naval bases between Britain and America in pre-Pearl Harbor days, was hit by torpedoes from a submarine and all but one of her complement of 147 are missing.

The sole survivor was Stoker W. A. Fisher of Black Diamond, Alta. He was not in details of the engagement in which the St. Croix was lost, except to say the destroyer was "on convoy duty." But probably the action was the one in which five R.C.A.F. long range Liberators bombed engaged submarines in two days recently.

Probably, too, it was the one mentioned by Prime Minister Churchill in a recent speech to the British House of Commons and which formed the basis for a German claim that 13 destroyers and nine merchant vessels had been sunk from a west-bound convoy.

(There has been no confirmation of this German claim from Allied sources.)

(Reports from an east coast Canadian source.)

Allied-Soviet Staff Meetings Likely

By JOHN F. CHESNEY
LONDON, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Russia's brilliantly successful offensive on the eastern front—with all its immense implications for the whole course and duration of the war—has led to a definite decision for early and intimate British-American-Soviet military staff discussions, even in advance of the forthcoming three-power diplomatic meeting.

This was learned today from a non-British source. The rash of events on the fighting front—at a pace that had not been foreseen—has made it plain that a meeting here will have a military flavor more marked than had appeared likely a few weeks ago.

It now is probable that Russian staff officers will participate in it. In fact that military men of all three countries will take part not only in a general conference along with their diplomatic chiefs, but have their own sessions among themselves.

Edmonton's No. 1 Sky Fighter Tells of Battles With Nazis In Russia and North Africa

The following interview with Sqdn. Ldr. James E. Walker, D.F.C. and two Bars, of Edmonton, was written exclusively for The Edmonton Bulletin by ASO Dorothy Howey of the R.C.A.F. public relations branch in Ottawa. ASO Howey before enlisting in the R.C.A.F. (W.D.) in 1942 was society editor of The Bulletin—EDITOR.

By DOROTHY HOWEY
Assistant section editor R.C.A.F.
OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—To Squadron Leader James E. Walker of Edmonton, D.F.C. and two Bars, pulling down Nazi fighters from the sky, is like shooting ducks or geese. "The first time you hit one you are amazed that it really happened. Then you get down to work."

Now he is enroute home to Edmonton where he will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Walker, 1084 16th avenue. Squadron Leader Walker, 24, until this week was the only Canadian to have won the Distinguished Flying Cross three times.

He has been overseas three years. Arriving in Great Britain in 1940, he was sent to Russia in the summer of 1941, a Royal Air Force "assignment," attached to an operational Hurricane squadron in the Murmansk area. It was there that he got his first Nazi. "We went up to attack some 109s and Heinkels. I saw a Hurricane go by with a 100 on its tail. I got the 109 in my sights and gave him a few bullets and saw him go down. Out of that skirmish, our squadron got three wots and a Heinkel," he said.

WONDERFUL RECEPTION
Guests of the Soviet Union during their stay, members of the squadron got a wonderful reception from the Russian fliers "who thought our Hurricanes positively amazing. He praised the courage of the Russian fliers, against what were then heavy odds, and remarked the pilots kept going on up for more."

Even in the dark days of 1941 the Russians were convinced that Moscow would never fall "even if they lake Moscow." The Russians said, "Russia will never fall to Germany. We will fight right back into Siberia."

His raids over France number between 75 and 80. "In my first sweep over France in 1941 after returning from Russia, we were sweeping over the channel when I got my first wot. We saw a few Hun bombers and prepared to swoop down on them when we were, in turn, snatched by the Canadians from a flight of German craft up there."

Now Being Studied Liberal Council Advances Post-War Social Proposals In Fifteen-Point Program

By C. R. BLACKBURN

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—(CP)—Consideration of plans for compulsory collective bargaining, a comprehensive national scheme for family allowances and a contributory superannuation plan for all Canadians are outstanding recommendations in the 15-point program submitted to the government by the National Liberal Federation's advisory council.

The program, result of a consolidation of resolutions adopted at the council's meeting here which opened Tuesday night, is being studied by the government. "The council expressed hope that adoption of its general proposals will make for the assurance of health, prosperity and happiness for Canadian citizens in the post-war period, using the nation's wealth for this purpose as it is being used for prosecution of the war."

The program has not been made public but from unofficial sources it was learned that many of the points are in line with present government policy, which the federation approved in emphatic terms.

Maintenance of necessary restrictions to guard against inflation was urged, but it was also recommended that care be exercised to remove the rationing of the last session.

One Sub Destroyed Several Merchant Ships Are Sunk With St. Croix

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Oct. 1.—(CP)—Victims of the first German U-boat attack on North Atlantic waters for nearly four months, more than 100 United States, Norwegian and British merchant seamen landed here earlier this week—along with a lone female stowaway from England.

The girl was a 16-year-old negro who had been smuggled aboard one of the vessels by the boat's captain. She was taken to the hospital and is now recovering.

For Calgary Sent Claim Caucus Decides Vote Not Necessary

Caucus of Social Credit members of parliament and Social Credit members of the Alberta legislative assembly decided, by a vote of 10 to 9, to send a delegation to Calgary, to fill the vacancy in the legislative assembly created by the death of the late Premier William Abernethy, need not be held, it was learned from authoritative quarters Friday.

Premier Ernest Manning, asked for comment on the caucus decision, said, "I have no statement to make."

It was only the opinion of the caucus and in the end, the government will make the decision, the premier said.

Calgary constituency has four members now sitting in the legislature. Fred Anderson, Social Credit, J. J. Bowlen, Liberal, and James Mahaffy, K.C., who was Independent, left in the election he called.

Social Credit members have expressed opinion on previous occasions that the election of a new member has been brought up that the election of a new member would be justified, in view of the representation already in the house.

The by-election must be attended within 180 days of creation of a vacancy, according to the Elections Act, and this makes Nov. 19 the deadline for an announcement of the election.

The C.C.F. party has already named a candidate, should the election be called.

Italy's Third Largest City Is Devastated Before Germans Flee

By SOLAND NORGARD

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The Anglo-American 8th Army today captured Naples, Italy's third greatest city, and threw the German defenders back upon the defences of Rome, which is 120 airline miles to the north.

The British and American forces which clattered into Naples found the city of 925,000 empty of Germans, who for a week had engaged in an orgy of destruction and terrorism designed to burn and tear down every installation that would be of benefit to Allied forces and to hamper Italian co-operation with the liberating armies.

The special Allied headquarters communicate, announcing the fall of Naples, did not give the time at which Allied troops seized the greatest city and they have won on the continent of Europe.

"Troops of the 5th Army have entered Naples and the city is reported clear of Germans," said the two-line statement.

Australians Repel Japanese Attacks

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Australian jungle troops are closing in on the last Japanese positions at Allied headquarters announced today that 50 Japanese were killed in fighting for a strategic spur just outside the townsite. The remainder of the defending forces were scattered.

All enemy resistance has been reduced on the high ground surrounding the village, the last Japanese holdings on the Huon Gulf looking toward New Britain.

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur said opposing troops are "very close—a matter of yards."

Several Allied Merchant Ships Sunk in Battle

Of strength with British and Canadian defence forces, but several weeks apparently spent re-arming and making plans.

This presumably was the attack when Prime Minister Churchill a week ago last Tuesday told the House of Commons was going on when he spoke.

It was in the same battle on which the Royal Canadian Navy lost the destroyer St. Croix with 116 of her 167-man crew, and probably the one in which several U-boats, bristling with anti-aircraft equipment, surfaced to slug it out with long-range R.C.A.F. Liberator aircraft.

The survivors, including about 40 Negroes from an American ship—the modern Lochmiller—were brought ashore here by a convoy rescue ship and cared for at a Navy League of Canada seamen's hostel. There they were clothed, fed and given a chance to sleep before going their ways homeward or to take new births.

DON'T KNOW LOSSES

They didn't know total losses of the convoy and escort, they knew too close for that and too busy fighting off the grip of the sea.

But they knew four ships of their convoy were sunk in the attack and at least one in the slow convoy preceding their was sunk. They were present when the St. Croix, her vitals torn by a torpedo, was split by a sudden explosion and carried to the bottom her crew and survivors she had picked up.

SEVEN-HOUR ATTACK

Two ships were sunk early Monday morning, but losses were limited to that as the escort vessels flustered their way around and through the lines of ships chasing the elusive subs. That attack lasted about seven hours and wound up around 11 a.m., the men said.

The next big attack came Wednesday, when two more vessels in the convoy were sunk and sunk. Another vessel was holed in the bottom, but stayed afloat. Her crew who had abandoned her, went back aboard and helped navigate her into port where she will be patched up to sail again.

THINK MAGAZINE HIT

One ship was struck fairly and squarely amidships. "She went down in no more than 30 seconds," said a seaman who saw it.

About half the crew got off safely, due in no small part to the quick action of a crewman who set the alarm bells jangling when the attack started and he saw the wakes of torpedoes tracing their way toward the vessel.

The St. Croix was picking up survivors when she received her death blow. She had taken a large number of them, estimated at 130 more, survivors related.

Then a torpedo went speeding into her thin armor plate and crashed through, apparently into her ammunition stores. The detonation set off a terrific explosion that racked her from stem to stern, and probably killed many before they even

Gurkha Wins V.C. For Great Bravery In Burma Attack

LONDON, Oct. 1.—(C.P.)—Hurting grenades covered in his own blood, a Gurkha who never before had been under fire, led a successful attack on a hill position in Burma against almost impossible Japanese odds—and won the Victoria Cross for bravery and leadership.

His decoration was the 74th V.C. awarded in this war, and the seventh Indian Army V.C.

Having Sgt. Gaj Singh of the 5th Royal Gurkha Rifles led a platoon of young soldiers in attack after attack until a strong Gurkha position in the Chin hills was carried. The action occurred last May.

The citation noted that Gaj Singh was in the front, close and leg by an enemy grenade, but "without pausing to attend his serious wounds and with no heed of the intense fire from all sides, Gaj Singh closed in and led them to close grips with the enemy, when a bitter hand-to-hand battle ensued."

The citation continued: "Spurred on by the irresistible will of his leader, Gaj Singh led the hill and inflicted very heavy casualties on the Japanese."

Gaj Singh has been promoted Gaj Singh (2nd Lieut.).

Australia Gives a Lead

With the Fifth Victory Loan in sight, Canadians will note with interest that the Treasurer of the Australian Commonwealth has introduced in parliament the largest budget in the history of the country. It calls for the expenditure of $2,574,000,000, about $220,000,000 more than the budget of the present year. The sum is more than half the national income. One-half the total will come from taxation and statutory sources of revenue, the balance to be raised by floating debentures and issuing treasury bills. In both the percentage of the national income required and in the proportion to be drawn from taxation the program corresponds fairly closely with that of Canada for the present year.

The significant fact for Canadians is that Australia is not counting on an early end of the war nor ceasing to expand its war effort. Though Australia is closer than Canada to an area of actual combat its fate is not more surely involved in the outcome. This Dominion, like the United States, must do more next year than it is doing this year, and to make that possible Australians, like Canadians, must supply more money.

Crowded Edmonton

Edmonton is over-crowded. This is not news, but it is a fact which cannot be too clearly recognized by the residents of the city, nor herded too emphatically to outsiders. Houses and apartments are practically not available for renters, and rooms are almost as scarce. Nor are there signs of the situation being relieved by the cold weather arrives, and when it arrives a percentage of the buildings now being used as living quarters will be unsuitable, some quite uninhabitable.

The gravity of this condition is obvious. It is a warning to people who are comfortably lodged elsewhere to not come to Edmonton at the first opportunity. Wherever possible men coming here on military service or to engage in war work must be well advised to leave their families where homes are less crowded. It is equally a warning to any who are here of choice but who have not obtained living quarters suitable for winter to consider going somewhere else to live until the cold weather has passed.

The city council would be justified in taking measures to publicize the facts as conditions here become less desirable. There is more at stake than the comfort of the city's residents or the prestige of the city itself. Actual hardship is already too possible if the present over-crowding continues when winter comes. Should the congestion be made worse by an influx of men looking for jobs, the result, hardship will be inevitable.

They're On Our Side Now

Italian troops have been ordered by their King to join the Allies in expelling the German forces from their country. Those who do so are entitled to be treated as the enemy, as they are entitled to the discharge of their duty, and as prisoners of war if captured.

But it is idle to suppose that German officers in Italy will have their own accord treat their Italian opponents according to the rules of war and the convention which prescribes the usage of prisoners. Nazi vengeance will always be exacted from these men as occasion offers, whether in combat or in prison camps.

The reports coming out of Naples and other points about the latest contempt of the Nazis for the Italians has flamed into fierce hatred even of civilians. That more mercy or more justice will be shown toward Italian "enemies" and fighting on the Allied side cannot be supposed.

Something might be done to put a curb on this frenzy for revenge if Berlin were notified by the Allies that Italian soldiers who obey the order of their King will be given the treatment of prisoners of war, and not of enemy combatants, under penalty of reprisals.

Whether the men who formerly fought against the Allies are now on their side or at their hands is not the point. They are on our side now, and the more fighting they do the fewer Canadian, British and American soldiers will be killed and wounded. They are more likely to fight, and less tempted to discard their uniforms and hide, if Berlin is warned that they will not be martyrs.

Which Does He Want?

Mr. Bracken does not approve the speech which Prime Minister King made to the National Liberal Federation conference. His objection is that Mr. King emphasized the circumstances which led to his opinion make a general election necessary before the end of the war and the return of Canadians now in service abroad. This, Mr. Bracken says, is only a device for calling an election whenever the Government may think that advisable from the view-point of party tactics. The implication is that the Progressive Conservative leader would have the Government continue in office until the war is over and then a general election complete, regardless of the constructive action of the Government in parliament and of whether or not there was evidence that public confidence had been lost.

This is strange doctrine to come from the head of a party in a country having the parliamentary system of government. It is stranger still coming from a man who was premier of a province for twenty years, during which he preached and practised exactly the same principle that Mr. King advanced. Manitoba was not governed by Mr. Bracken in disregard of the legislature or public opinion, and could not have been. It is true that Mr. Bracken kept in office for years by compromising and coaxing, and that he was not elected, but he could not defy the legislature and the voters. Quite the contrary; he trimmed his sails to suit the breeze rather than defy either of them.

Curiously enough, the Progressive Conservative leader follows his implied demand that Mr. King play the role of an autocrat by declaring that the Government has now "only 25 per cent of popular support." That is a challenge of the right of the Government to continue in office, and an appeal to the electors forthwith. Does Mr. Bracken want an election now or doesn't he? He talked both ways in the course of his lifetime.

Swiss reports say Austrian patriot bands are joining Yugoslav guerrillas in fighting the Nazis. If this is true, it is becoming active in one corner of the Reich itself, for Austria was annexed to Germany and stands in a different position than the satellite states and occupied countries.

Honorable Chief Justice Harvey of the Supreme Court of Alberta is today celebrating the completion of his 84th year. Very few surviving western Old Timers are so widely known, personally and by repute. He has been a resident of the west since 1892. In 1893 was called to the bar at Calgary, and in 1900 appointed Attorney General of the North West Territories. Four years later came the appointment as puisne judge of the Supreme Court of the Territories, and in 1907 to the Supreme Court of the newly erected province of Alberta. In 1910 he was made a justice of the peace, and in 1912 a judge, and for thirty-three years head of the judiciary of this province. The public will be relieved by the news that which today are being extended from bench and bar to the veteran jurist.

Capitol to adopt the ward system of electing members of the city council. The city of Port Arthur electric railway has been completed. It connects the three towns of Port Arthur, Port Huron and Sarnia. The line is 10 miles long, and is eight miles in length. The building of the railway is an interesting experiment in municipal management. The project was owned by the town of Port Arthur. Mr. William W. C. Smith, mayor of Port Arthur, was the driving force behind the project. He bought one half of the line in 1905.

An irrigation ditch is being surveyed on the Buffalo River. Freight rates between Calgary and Edmonton are under reconstruction, and it is expected they will be reduced. Men belonging to the British Army Reserve cannot be compelled to pay a debt under $100.

The site for the C.N.R. station grounds and yard has been cleared and grading is now in progress. The game investigation cost Ontario $60,000. Capt. J. H. McLeod has been ordered to make a voyage from that town to the Grand Rapids with his new steamer.

Kelowna: The B.C. Fruit Growers' Association has secured an injunction to prevent shipment of McIntosh apples in bulk cars from this district.

Leitch: Marlin Van Der Lubbe confessed in court that he set fire to the Reichstag building in Berlin. He also confessed that he was in both cases presented a meeting of the Technocracy.

Montreal: A conference held here, on the ground that the Government is not doing enough to call an election whenever the Government may think that advisable from the view-point of party tactics. ## Franco's Friendship Is Dangerous to Democracies

Axis Trying to Plug Allied Group With Fascists

By HAROLD L. WEIR

Overseas correspondents are making much of the apparent efforts of Franco to establish a friendly relationship with the United States.

The story is that Franco and his henchmen, convinced at last of the need to ally themselves with the United States, are endeavoring to disentangle themselves from the long and close relationship with the Axis.

Bluntly, there is good reason to suspect that the Fascist forces in Spain are which play a leading role in the Axis, are endeavoring to disentangle themselves from the long and close relationship with the Axis.

Harold L. Weir
Franco has been a friend of the Axis since the beginning of the war. He has been a friend of the Axis since the beginning of the war.

SPORTS EDITOR

It is plainly evident from Calgary press dispatches that the Alberta hockey caldron is already commencing to simmer. Currie Barracks coming up with the surprise of the week in announcing the appointment of a civilian coach and Navy stating that a berth in the services loop will be sought by H.M.C.S. Tecumseh. The A.R.A. meeting is on Oct. 9.

Naming of Elmer Piper as coach at Currie comes along just when most citizens were taking it for granted that Tommy Anderson would be continuing in that post for the soldiers. Piper however can produce quite a string of successes to show that he is no novice as a hockey mentor and providing he receives reasonable co-operation will no doubt live a serious contender for league honors.

Marty Burke should be alright for the newly-organized Navy squad, although the personnel of the crew of the good ship Tecumseh has not been divulged so far. Any way the Alberta Services Hockey League is beginning to take on a more definite shape.

ON LOCAL HOCKEY FRONT

A nod speaking of sailors on ice is a reminder that the local Navy also has been doing very nicely of late so far as hockey talent goes.

Bill Lancaster, star goalie with the Canadian Athletic Club last season is already at H.M.C. Nensuch and Jack Ingram, last year's E.A.C. netminder and star for the defence force, are also in the club. Jack's by the way, had originally expected to be in the R.C.A.F.

Don Murray, smart goaltender for the Canadian juniors last season, and Bob Jackson, also a Canadian, along with Terry Canavan, an E.A.C. juvenile star, Bud McPherson of the Maple Leaf juveniles who all are leaving in the days for Lester Bowers, Ranger hockey school at Winnipeg.

Four Star Hockey Players On Winnipeg Grid Lineup

WINNIPEG, Oct. 1.—(CP)—It's a long cry from the hockey rink to the gridiron, but the Winnipeg grid is proving that it's not so. They are AC1 Paul Platz, LAC Andy P. —LAC, LAC Sammy Lavitt and AC2 ALF PIKE.

All four are hockey players of proven ability, and held down jobs in professional hockey before they became members of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Platz held down a wing for Chicago Black Hawks, Branigan long the big league hockey line in playing defence for Red Dutton's Brooklyn Americans. Lavitt was a top-notch player with Dallas in the now defunct American Association, and until the spring Pike was a forward and defenceman with Lester Patrick's New York Rangers.

This fall all four have donned the rugby mackintosh with Reg. Three-fifty Winnipeg R.C.A.F. Bombers in the Western Interprovincial Rugby Football League, and have shown they are just as adept on the gridiron as they are on the hockey rink. Branigan ran for two touchdowns when the Bombers made their first start of the season against Regina Athletics Roughriders last Saturday.

But Winnipeg doesn't hold a monopoly on hockey players making good on the rugby field. On the roster of the Toronto R.C.A.F. Bombers is the Ontario Rugby Football League's LAC Red Heron, former

Burke Pilot Prospective Navy Entry

CALGARY, Oct. 1.—(CP)—Rumors that Elmer Piper would coach the Currie barracks army team of the Alberta Senior Services Hockey League during the 1943-44 season were confirmed by Piper here last night.

Earlier in the day, Lt. Cmdr. Dave Dattels of H.M.C.S. Tecumseh announced that Marty Burke had been appointed coach of the Navy team that will seek admission to the Alberta league.

Piper, a former North Battleford and Saskatoon Quaker defence star, gained most of his hockey fame when he helped Quakers win world's championship at Milan, Italy in 1937 and coached the Trail Smoke Eaters to the Allan Cup championship in 1938. Since then he has coached Turner Valley Oilers and Baltimore Orioles. He was out of hockey last winter, remaining in Okotoks.

Burke gained his greatest coaching success when he coached Calgary Stampede to the Allan Cup final against Kirkland Lake Blue Devils in 1940. He had previously coached Saskatoon Quakers and played many years in the N.H.L. with several teams. When the Stampede disbanded last winter Burke was on the sidelines.

Lead's Start Oct. 12

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—(CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League will open their fall training program in California on Oct. 12, it was announced Thursday.

Leafs' manager, Art Ross, will take preference over the Leafs, Fergus Falls' high school football team. At least, that is the feeling about it. A game with Barnstable, scheduled for next Saturday, was called off when the Leafs were going to pick potatoes to help the farmers instead of play football with the Oilers.

Durocher Will Quit If Pay Cut

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—Leo Durocher, who will be called upon to reorganize his managerial contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers at the end of the season, said Thursday that he would not continue as manager if he had to accept a substantial salary cut. He added he would agree to remain as manager without a contract, provided the salary was satisfactory. He said he would quit "if the pay is to be about $15,000."

University Medical Students Join Armed Forces

Canada's armed forces need more and more qualified medical practitioners, and medical speed-up courses have been instituted in all Canadian universities. Again women are coming to the front in the crisis and are offering their services to take up the slack on the critical medical front as they have on many other "fronts" formerly manned by men only. The five young women shown above have joined the Canadian Women's Army Corps and will soon have uniform while they start studies as medical students. The sole male in the group is the husband of one of the feminine students. He is Herman Myers and is also enrolled as a medical student and is enlisted in the Canadian army. Front row, left to right, are: Winifred Van Kleeck of Armstrong, B.C.; daughter of the late Dr. Van Kleeck of Armstrong. Two brothers, one a captain in the Royal Canadian Engineers, and the other a flight lieutenant in the R.C.A.F., are serving overseas. Kathleen Swallow, 16041 127 street, is a former laboratory technician at the University of Alberta. She is the daughter of Dr. G. E. Swallow, medical officer of the Edmonton Public School board. Margaret Ferguson of Trochu, a former Calgary girl, she is 23 years old. Back row, left to right, are: Jane Huggill, 11141 84 street, daughter of John W. Huggill, K.C., former attorney-general of Alberta. A brother, Maj. J. T. Huggill, is serving overseas with the Royal Canadian Artillery. Herman Myers, 10015 85 avenue, is the sole male in the group. He is one of 48 medical students who enlisted in the Canadian Army this fall. Mrs. Violet Myers, his wife, was born in Calgary. The C.W.A.C. will have complete control over the women students throughout their courses.

The Inquiring Reporter

What do you think should be done to solve the housing problem in Edmonton?

THE ANSWERS:

HARRY SHAPKA, farmer: I've been coming into Edmonton for 45 years, but I never saw a situation like this before. It is difficult to find a hotel room. I now stay with friends or relatives. The government should build more houses for people more accommodation.

EDWARD MALAYKO, farmer: Some governmental agency should start putting up more houses for the people to rent, but it is the only way to relieve the shortage of dwellings. It is obvious that until there are more houses there will be no place for people to live.

MRS. JAMES MORAN, housewife: My husband returned from overseas two years ago, but we are still looking for suitable place to live. We are staying with my mother in her two room suite. B. were very crowded. The government should put up more living quarters or give more permits for building.

Safety Drive Is Instituted In U.S. Forces

In line with Edmonton's war campaign, Brig.-Gen. L. D. Worsam, division engineer for the Northwest Division, is instituting a safety drive among the people who come under his command.

With William L. Lafferty, safety engineer, as co-ordinator, a testing station has been established at the Jesuit College, where both government and contractor employees can be examined. It is planned to set up similar stations along the Alaska Military Highway.

The Office of War Information in Washington, D.C., has found that 29 per cent of driver fatalities are due to faulty vision.

It was found that 35 per cent of cars and trucks of the U.S. Engineers here which are in the shops for repairs are out of use because of faulty driving.

When this was brought to Mr. Lafferty's attention he said that in order to conserve equipment more capable drivers must be secured, and the faulty ones eliminated.

The tests, which follow those set by the National Safety Council in the United States, will enable the U.S. Engineers to determine the ability of the drivers. It was pointed out that many persons were asking for drivers' jobs because of the good wages, when they were not qualified.

The physical aptitude tests will include field of vision and depth perception, as well as reaction time, actual vehicle operation under various conditions, reaction time and glare activity.

The paper carried congratulatory messages from Air Marshal L. S. Broadbent, chief of the air staff; and from Air Vice-Marshal G. R. Husam, M.C., air officer commanding No. 3 Training Command, Calgary.

In addition there was a message from the Altman's air officer in charge of the First Great War, Air Marshal W.A. "Billy" Bishop.

Further supply of 100 stock sheep kits has been received by Impement Paris Distributors, provincial government farm machine repair agency in the Administration building, Edmonton. It was announced Friday. The kits are ready for shipment to the various farms. Charges on the kits to any point in Alberta are paid by the government, and farmers outside of Alberta are allowed shipping charges as far as the limit of the province. Several kits have already been shipped to Manitoba and British Columbia farms.

The invasion of North Africa, Sicily and Italy are a pride to greater invasions yet to come. In the months ahead our fighting men will go to even greater achievements, but the full support of every American citizen is essential for victory," he said.

He urged their complete support in putting the $100,000,000 Third War Loan goal over the top, thereby to give encouragement and inspiration to those who are under the gun in a down different fight.

He pointed out to Canadian workers that the Canadian War Loan contribution to this war effort and that Canada would need Canadian dollars just as the United States needs the dollars of the American citizen to prosecute the war.

Arrest Two Youths On Theft Charges

Two youths, 11 and 15 years of age, residing at 106 street, south of Portage avenue, on Monday were apprehended Thursday by R.C.M.P. After they had spent a night in a home at 143 street, north of 106 street, the youths were released.

By Day

BY ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON.—Coming back from Australia and my visit to Guadalcanal, where I spent a night and a day, I want to review our duties.

Guadalcanal looks very different from when the Marines landed. By building on through the desperate first months, till we could get supplies and the Army came in and relieved them, they assured us of ultimate domination in the South. Today there are miles of roads and the men have tented floors in their tents in expectation of the rainy season.

The hospitals are well equipped and fairly comfortable, especially where they are in buildings. Everywhere you see screens for movies, which are shown after dark. The Red Cross is functioning well, and I hope they soon will be allowed to add some women to the staff. Miss Ryan and I were the first women to enter the nurses, who fly back and forth in ambulance planes, and who have been on the island since it was taken from the Japanese. It shortly will be considered safely behind the front line.

In Espiritu Santo, where we stopped for half a night, I saw the admiral the recreation area, where there were almost as many attractions as in Coway Island, but, in spite of the great crowd of men, it was less crowded.

I was shown the camp site by our boy, James, and his Marine buddies, who occupied a few of the spots on the old pier where he stood in the rain on a dark night and, by the light from a jeep, Admiral Nimitz read his citation and pinned on a decoration. It is exciting to me even now, and how I wish I could have been there.

There were more hospitals to visit and I came to wonder where the boys drew their courage. There and there you saw an older man, but his spirit always was the spirit of eternal youth, which can't be broken.

On this trip I ate in a great variety of places, perhaps more often in officers' messes, though I ate

Kiwanis Glee Club Provides Attractive Entertainment

Rated as one of the truly great glee clubs in International Kiwanis and without a peer in Western Canada, the Edmonton Kiwanis Glee Club has won distinction in performances of "Kiwanis Kapers of 1943" which has been put on in this city and at points in the surrounding district.

Edmonton Kiwanis Club Boasts Many Activities During Last 24 Years

Shortly after the Edmonton Kiwanis club was formed in 1919 members decided their primary objective would be support of the Children's Aid Society and launched upon an ambitious campaign to raise $50,000 for the erection of a home for underprivileged children.

Through the years the club has not only been engaged in many profitable activities with the main objective of most of them being the welfare of underprivileged children.

The home was completed within three years and has been maintained and improved ever since.

The organization has grown from membership of 35 in the first year to a membership of 120. What the club may lack in numbers it more than makes up in aggressive, new, cooperation and fulfillment of objectives.

Kiwanians Devote Much Time to Task Selling Apples for Kids Home

Any one of Edmonton's 120 Kiwanians can tell you what a tough job it is to maintain a children's home for one year through the sale of apples. For the past month these men, who do a regular day's work in addition, having been completing plans for their annual "Apple Day".

During war time these men are naturally busier than usual, but nonetheless they "make time" to contribute their share toward maintaining this home for underprivileged children.

Here are some of the jobs some of them are tackling — in their "spare time".

Circulated the 120 members, asking them to submit the time of day Saturday they would be available, the location they would prefer working in, the job they would

Music Hath Charms

W. G. Strachan, musical arranger for the Kiwanis Glee Club, to whose unremitting efforts a large part of the club's success is due.

Regular attendance of the club members to meetings and other club activities always has been a source of pride of this organization. Two members, very active today, boast the Canadian record of having attended every Kiwanis meeting in the last 24 years. These men are Roy Henry, club historian, and Thornton Graham.

Not every Edmonton Kiwanian has held high offices in the Kiwanis world of America. The late Dr. C. C. Tallman and Andrew A. White were vice-presidents of Kiwanis International, and the same two men with Ed McGarvey and Dr. F. S. McCall, filled the positions of lieutenant governors of the Alberta district.

William Fawcett has been secretary of the club since 1929.

At present the annual rummage sale, the Apple Week, and the Kiwanis Glee Club constitute the chief source of the club's annual income.

Kiwanis Apple Week was introduced in 1930, and has increased its scope from year to year, to be recognized now as an institution.

The glee club was organized four years ago, mainly to provide an

The trustees of the home are His Worship Mayor John W. Fry; Guy Gottfred, president of the Kiwanis Club, and W. A. Bayley, president of the Children's Aid Society. The superintendent of the home is Mrs. Gertrude Phillips, a trained nurse, and the staff consists of a housekeeper, cook, laundress, assistant cook and five dormitory maids.

McCoy Health Service

Due to the inability of readers to obtain the various food suggestions in the weekly menus which have been appearing in this column each Friday, it has been decided to discontinue the printing of these menus for the duration, or until normally returns in the food situation.

However, readers are invited to send for special articles on diets and food combinations, which will help provide good wholesome and nutritious meals with the foods available.

Avoid Too Much Starch
The term carbohydrates is given to a type of food substances which is found as a constituent of plants and also present in combination with some of the proteins. They are given the name carbohydrates, because they contain carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. In effect, the carbohydrates consist of the starches and sugars.

Most vegetables contain a portion of starch, but they do not come under the heading of starch-vegetables unless they contain over 10 per cent. The so-called starch-vegetables, which average around 10 per cent starch content, include asparagus, cauliflower, green peppers, onion, tomatoes, and lettuce. An other group contain approximately 6 per cent carbohydrate content and these include beets, carrots, horse-radish, onion, squash, turnips, and so on.

In selecting vegetables at the market it is a good plan, especially when buying starchy, such as turnips, carrots, parsnips and beets, to select young small ones. The starch content in the young vegetables being approximately 50 per cent less than in the older ones. Sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, lima beans, large peas and large pumpkins may be classified as starchy vegetables, and these should be taken in restricted quantities, due to their high starch content which ranges anywhere from 18 to 28 per cent.

When these starchy vegetables are baked in the oven, the starch is converted by the heat to dextrin, which is a good energy food which does not cause intestinal fermentation, which is often caused by these vegetables when cooked and served in other manners, which do not cause the starch to dextrinize. Most of the cereal products such as bread, cereal, macaroni, starch, noodles, and macaroni, have a starch or carbohydrate content of anywhere from 20 to 50 per cent. When these are eaten, the starch is converted into dextrin, just as it is in vegetables. Starches and sugars are necessary but their use should be restricted and only one kind of starch should be used at a meal, and this should be combined only with the cooked and raw non-starchy vegetables.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self-addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address: McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 155 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Air Graduates
PEARCE, Oct. 1.—(C.P.)—Airman graduating from No. 7 Flying School, Calgary, Alberta, this morning received their certificates. The graduates include: J. A. P. Pearce, Edmonton; W. C. Olson, P. H.

Where Underprivileged Children Find Refuge

In this modern, up-to-date home, sponsored by the Edmonton Kiwanis Club, underprivileged children find sanctuary, entertainment, guidance and uplift. The home has cared for hundreds of children and is operated and maintained through funds raised by the club. The annual Apple Week conducted by the club, is one of the several means by which funds are raised to carry on the work.

home of a Kiwanian and about 20 children received this benefit.

On account of the increased cost of food and other commodities, a special effort was made in the large garden that surrounds the grounds, and this work was under the personal direction of Kiwanian Douglas Jones, and this week the crop was harvested and it was one of the best on record. The root house has been enlarged to take care of this year's crop.

The expenses of operating the home this year have increased considerably and the board of directors have already advised the Kiwanians that additional money will have to be raised so that the home can be operated successfully in 1943. Every dollar that is received in connection with the Apple Day campaign is used for the operation and maintenance of the Kiwanis Home and the club itself does not use any part of this fund for the operation of the Kiwanis Club.

The officers of Edmonton are urged to support the Apple Day Campaign so that this essential service can be carried on for the benefit of the underprivileged children in the Edmonton district. The war has not ended the problems of youth; some of these problems have been intensified, some have been postponed and new ones created. Children who are healthy, well trained and aggressively loyal are vital to the security of our country. In this belief the Kiwanis Club of Edmonton feels that they have been and are doing an essential and timely service to the community, by providing a suitable home under proper leadership for a group of children.

Footsteps in the Fog

By Elinore Cowan Stone

YESTERDAY: Angela visited Stephan, about whom she had heard so much from her former fiancé, who had been a German agent. She was a charming girl, who had been a German agent, who had been a German agent.

CHAPTER VII

DEBORAH found herself worried and ill at ease throughout dinner, but Bridge, who was happily over the service and as Bridge served, she talked.

Bridge, Deborah realized, felt that the current Lovett hostess was letting her down, and she was rallying all her own conversational arts to uphold the hospitable traditions of the Lovetts. Stephan listened so appreciatively, and complimented her so charmingly upon her cooking that he had her giggling like a flustered colleen.

"I can't have you bedazzling my poor old Bridge this way, Stephan," Deborah protested when Bridge went to bring the coffee. "It was with the coffee that Bridge's really notable contribution to the conversation came—like a thunderbolt."

"They do say," she announced, suddenly setting before Deborah the silver service which had come over from England in 1793, "that the crew of a schooner that run in out of the fog are told that they sighted what is called a 'flying ship'."

"A flying ship? What do you mean, Bridge?" Deborah demanded. "Was of thin diabolic under-water craft, it was, Miss Deborah—as a German at that. Miss Deborah! What then happens he states that up all over again—about a month or two ago—"

"I think," Deborah said hastily, after a glance at Stephan's eyes, "that you're overreacting."

HOLD EVERYTHING

"I know it's dirty, dear, but you know what the laundry situation is!"

LAFF-A-DAY

CURIOUS WORLD

puissance. Like this—delicately, sickly, sick, he began to rearrange the shivered kindling. "Now that I think of it," he went on without looking up, "building a fire is not at all unlike making love."

Deborah wanted to cry out, "Stephan, my dear, what are you saying so hard to explain? Surely you didn't drive all the way down here just to tell me how to build a fire!"

When he did not go on, she asked, "Who don't you use some of the driftwood, Stephan?" In the silence of the night, it makes a much better fire."

"Oh, but I know all about driftwood, too. At home, our land ran down to the sea. When I was a boy, I used to imagine that piece had its own strange—perhaps even tragic—history. One might almost write a sonnet about a piece of driftwood. Now this, for instance,"

"He selected a heavy piece of charred timber. "Where do you suppose this could have come from?" he asked, who—like—'he broke off to examine it with startled attention."

"A part of a ship? Yes, doesn't it?" Burned at sea—and a long time ago. Of course, you know that. But I'm sure it's not so far from here during the last war. I'm sure it's not so far from here during the last war. I'm sure it's not so far from here during the last war."

"When he continued just to kneel there, the glow of the fire guiding his bent head and flickering over his downcast face, she found herself remembering with a start the little episode with which she had stood in her doorway only a few days ago."

A half-interested stick broke, fell and blazed again before he, said, "You wouldn't know, perhaps, but my father commanded a raider during the last war. He died doing the thing he thought he had to do. I don't think he liked it very much."

"A great many men, even nowadays, are doing things they would much rather not do if circumstances did not make them necessary."

"I wish—be under in halting English—" It had been under. His eyes shot past Deborah and found Stephan, who was looking at her with a steady gaze. He was looking at her with a steady gaze. He was looking at her with a steady gaze."

"But you should not have come here. But you should not have come here. But you should not have come here. But you should not have come here. But you should not have come here."
